Ba Boom!

Ba Boom!

Ba Boom!

*Conquer - Nice to have you in class!
Continue the hard work. Good luck
Mr. Jarvis!*

Looking back through the years, it's so obvious how much you've given to this class. You've been so devoted to us. You've given so much time and energy to our needs; and sometimes, as young people will, we took you for granted. We seldomly appreciated your hard work and generosity, and very rarely did we give of ourselves as you did.

It is only now, as seniors, that we can fully appreciate your strength, wisdom, patience, humor, generosity, guidance, and most of all your friendship. In fact, it's been you continuously pushing each of us to be better and guiding us that has led us to this final stage of our lives in high school.

Top: Mr. Jarvis fielding suggestions for the class trip. The idea of going to Bermuda surprised him, but it was appealing.

Left: Mr. Jarvis, dressed in his hiking clothes, gives one of his awe-inspiring speeches to the class at the bottom of Scragg Mountain. And although tired, he still had enough energy to play football.

Bottom Left: Mr. Jarvis is caught in a rare moment. He is actually smiling. Don't worry, this won't ruin your reputation Mr. Jarvis

Now that our time here at NHS is almost over, we will never be able to pay you back in the amount that you deserve. However, your hard work has not gone unnoticed. We thank you with all our hearts. And for your years of dedication to us; we, the class of 1988, would like to make this dedication to you Mr. Jarvis for being the best advisor, teacher, and friend that this class could ever have asked for. This is your year as well as ours!

Mrs. Gail Pasotti, Biological Sciences

THANKS, MRS. PASOTTI

"Mrs. Pasotti, how does this article sound for the Journal?" "Mrs. Pasotti, what is this chapter really about?" These are only a few of the many questions Mrs. Gail Pasotti hears in a day. She is the advisor to the Vine Street Journal and the Enrichment Program, and she is a class advisor. She is all this in addition to being a biology teacher. Her day is well filled with helping students, getting the next Journal edition ready for the press, and keeping track of what her class is doing for fund raisers or trips. She does all this, and also managed to receive a grant for 25,313 dollars last summer.

Twenty seven Vermont teachers competed for the Christa McAuliffe Grant. Each teacher presented a proposal of what he or she would do with the money. It had to be used either for school or community service or for personal enrichment, such as furthering a college education. Mrs. Pasotti's proposal was to take the money and use it for three things. One was to prevent the land above the Comiskey School from being sold. Another was to use that land for school and community use. In addition, she wanted to start an interdisciplinary class on land management. "This is a class where there are three or four teachers in the class at the same time. If a student needs help with English, let's say, then an English teacher is there. If a student needs help with the computers (playing with the data picked up on the trail), a teacher is there to help with that," said Mrs. Pasotti. Other schools have these kinds of classes which tie together all the subjects covered in high school.

The nature trail, jogging trails, and a cross country ski trail will be used by the community.

Mrs. Pasotti, we are proud to say, won the Christa McAuliffe Grant and worked hard on a plan to spend the money in ways which would benefit her students and her community for years to come. Thanks, Mrs. Pasotti.

OUR TEACHER OF THE YEAR

It all started back in 1970, when Mr. Ted Schulz came to teach in Northfield. This was the first time Mr. Schulz became news, but not the last in the eighteen years he has been here. On the contrary, Mr. Schulz has felt slightly embarrassed many times by the praise and recognition he received for his hard work. He has been given merit pay twice since he has started here. He has also received two mini-grants for the Enviromental Club. Mr. Schulz has been an advisor for the Outing Club and a class advisor for six years. And these were just his extra-curricular activities.

Of course, he was not all work. When he could get away from his busy schedule, Mr. Schulz liked to experiment with computers, or repair his cars, play the guitar, or paint miniature figurines. None of which the students saw, for they only saw how hard

Theodore Schulz
Science-Chr.

he worked. He worked hard at everything. He has been the chairman of the basic competency testing program. During the 1986 through 1988 school years Mr. Schulz was the chairman for the New England School Accreditation and Public School Approval processes. For this he had to organize committees of students and teachers to help evaluate the school system. This was to help prepare for the evaluating team that came in the fall of 1987. Mr. Schulz organized this also, and he prepared the school well.

Of course, do not forget that in 1987 Mr. Ted Schulz was voted the Enviromental Education Teacher of the Year or that he was voted Teacher of the Month for the month of September by the students and staff! It seems that in eighteen years Mr. Schulz still had not lost his talent for making headlines.

JUNIORS

High Class Act

As Juniors, our class of 1989 excelled in academics, athletics, the arts, and demonstrated extraordinary leadership abilities, as well as maintaining high class spirit.

This year we worked together enthusiastically as a class to earn money for the prom. We also participated in various fundraisers to assure ourselves a great senior year. Most notable of these activities was our infamous chicken "excretion" booth during the Labor Day Weekend celebration. None of this would have been possible without the dedicated leadership of our advisor, Mr. Steve Martin.

SOPHOMORES

CLASS OF 1990

The class of 1990 is filled with mixed personalities, but in the end we pull together and share a special friendship. We were often known for rowdiness and trouble. The sophomore halls were always filled with the sounds of "yeah, right", "psych", "yeah, that's the ticket", and the "humming" of other voices. We'll always remember the Q106 dance and "mony, mony". Yes, we were pretty infamous at dances! When all else was lost, we could always find tranquility somewhere; for some, it was the attic. Our first glimpse of the halls of NHS were on our shaky seventh grade knees and slowly we climbed the totem pole, realizing that before we knew it we would have reached the top.

A DREAM COME TRUE

Dare to dream . . . Each year the beginning of a new season brings the thought, "Could this be the year?" After many years of coming, oh, so close, the Northfield Boys Varsity soccer team finally came away with a State Championship. The team this year was a young one, consisting of a strong base of sophomores and juniors and led by only one senior. They matured quickly and established themselves as a dominant team almost immediately.

The hard August workouts paid off in October as the team defeated its long time nemesis Arlington 3-2 in a sudden death overtime semi-final! The final chapter was written against Peoples Academy as the Marauders completed their finest season, 14-3, with a 3-0 shutout over the Wolves. Hard work, dedication, discipline, and teamwork had finally paid off . . . the dream came true . . . DIVISION III STATE CHAMPIONS!!!

A SPECIAL TEAM A SPECIAL SEASON

It is disappointing when one works so hard to achieve a goal but then falls just short of reaching it. However, this is part of what life is all about. For those who believe, it's what keeps us going, always trying to do our best, always reaching for the top.

The season of 1987 was exceptional. It is a season that will be remembered for a long time, not for how it ended but for what we experienced and accomplished from beginning to end. We will all remember the pre-season with its double sessions, hills, and scrimmages against some of the best teams in the state; sleeping in houses instead of tents; the video sessions with our experienced camera crew; the day to day efforts that made us one of the state's most talented teams. And, we will never forget those eight special seniors who gave so much of themselves to their team and the program over the years.

LET'S HEAR IT!

This year the JV team was cut, and the varsity increased to ten, a size they agreed was more fun and versatile to work with. They added new cheers and partner stunts to the routines. Spirit Week was successful, thanks to everyone. In February, the team successfully displayed its talent, placing third in the Regionals and fourth in the state competition.

THE THRILL OF VICTORY . . .

Our girls ended their regular season play with a record of 13-7. Unlike past years, the season did not end there. For the first time in five years, the girls qualified for play-offs. Any avid fan could tell the girls had made tremendous progress.

The team, consisting of seven seniors, three juniors, and one sophomore, rotated captains every game. The girls got along tremendously well, and practices with coach Jeff Evans were as fun as games, unless, of course, these games were against Hazen, Thetford, Harwood, or South Royalton. These four games were especially exciting as the girls dribbled through presses (instead of throwing the ball away), made successful moves towards the hoop (instead of away), and most important, sank baskets (instead of ships.)

The close games provided exciting last-minute plays, while for the first time in many years, our girls were on the top of a 62-35 win. Post season play provided fans with a chance to see a changed girls' basketball team.

Manager Maria Roux, Gretchen Stone, Rachel Sevi, Amy Hockenbury, Amy Wright, Melanie Le-Clair, Corinne Boyd, Amy Lynde, Erica Holub, Gloria Smith, Randy Jennings, Tracy Ingram, Coach Evans.

AND THE AGONY OF DEFEAT!

For a team that went 4-16 the previous year and lost six seniors, they did not do all that badly. The team consisted of one senior, nine juniors, and three sophomores. They were a small team; their tallest starters standing six feet (maybe), and as a result they had difficulties rebounding all year.

Despite their record, most of their games were close. They tended to suffer from one bad quarter every game, and this generally resulted in another loss. No matter what their record, they always gave their best (for whatever that was worth). In one game this resulted in three of the starters fouling out and the other two ending with four fouls each.

For the latter half of the season, spirits were kept up by singing the National Anthem in the shower. The high point of the season was the win over Chelsea, which ended an eight game losing streak and was also the first time the team scored over fifty points.

The team looked forward to coming back with a strong team in 88-89 when they would have four starters returning, including its high-scorer.

BLADES AND BOARDS

The 1987-88 hockey squad, which had just one starting senior and even included one starting freshman goaltender, was a young team. Although expectations at the beginning of the season were not very high, the Marauders fought hard and made themselves into a team to be contended with in Division II. Early surprising victories in a 4-1 win over Middlebury and a 4-2 win over Hartford helped the Marauders to clinch a play-off spot at the halfway point of the season. For the play-offs the team hoped for a third or fourth seed and a home ice advantage in the first round.

With the end of the season the team lost its coach of three years, Mr. Miles. When coming to practice at 5:00 am you could always expect Coach Miles to be up and urging us all onto the ice. Once there, we could always expect to be put through many creative (and sometimes grueling) drills. "Everyone on the line . . . with pucks." Who could forget this statement that always preceded "AGILITY DRILLS"? "Clank" went the pucks off the crossbar and over the plexiglass. As practice neared its finish you could always hear Mr. Miles' skates grinding across the cement under the bleachers as he faithfully retrieved our lost pucks. Mr. Miles has been a great coach, and we appreciate everything he's done for us. It will take a lot to fill his skates. We'll miss him!

SPIRIT

There are a few things that can be said about the hockey cheerleaders this year: they were there, they were loud, and they were good. The squad had plenty of enthusiasm for the hockey team, and they rooted them on throughout the season. Six seniors will be leaving the squad this year. To them and next year's squad —Good Luck!

PLAYING AROUND

This year was a first for drama in the school. In the fall, the school musical was actually made up of clips from other musicals. The Music Man, South Pacific, and Fiddler on the Roof were some of the musicals represented. It also was the first time that a graduate, Mr. Bruce, came back to participate in a school play. It marked the first time the high school combined with Comiskey school to entertain the public.

The Senior Play this year was directed by Mrs. Schulz. She had the seniors dreaming of life in a small New Hampshire town at the turn of the century in Our Town, a play by Thornton Wilder. Beautifully casted and produced, it was a big hit.

This year was also a fine year for the one act plays. To all this years actors and actresses, a fine job, and to future actors and actresses, good luck!

VISION OF THE FUTURE: CONGRESS IN 2020

If you are only vaguely acquainted with the rules of parliamentary procedure, the Model Congress can be intimidating. However, you will soon discover two things: one is that you will learn these rules very quickly. The second thing you are likely to discover is that you can be almost completely ignorant of these rules and still have a great time! Hence, Model Congress.

The purpose of the Model Congress was to acquaint the participants with the rules of parliament and to have them present a bill of their own to the other members. Participants also had to listen to the other presentations and had to vote on whether it was a good proposal or not. Of course, if one had no interest in the proceedings one could always doodle on the tablecloth.

All in all it was a worthwhile experience. Northfield's bill was passed in record time- one of only a relative few to do so. Participants also acquired some valuable experience necessary to become an active part in our government. Why not go? You too can have the chance to bring Mr. Monmaney to the brink of retirement!

TERVETULOA!

Mika Ruusunen (left) came from Rauma, Finland to spend his senior year with us at NHS. He earned a nice collection of medals as a member of the Rifle Team, and he used his artistic talents making posters and "hypes" for the cheerleaders.

Some highlights of his year were a visit from his brother, Tapio, (above center) in November and a visit from his aunt, Riita, in May. He also did some traveling to Florida, California, Montreal, Boston, New York City, and West Point. Mika made use of the Vermont ski slopes, and he expects to "dust" everyone on the slopes back home. He tried Ben & Jerry's ice cream, watermelon gum, orange soda, and chocolate. Mika shared some of his own culture and prepared some typical Finnish meals.

Northfield and especially the class of 1988 feel very fortunate to have had Mika here this year.

BIENVENUE!

Celine Viguier (right), from Toulouse, a large city in southern France, was accustomed to city life and 70-90° weather. She was brave enough to venture out at the young age of fifteen and face rural, cold Vermont; however, the warmth of her host family and friends helped her to adjust. Besides quickly learning English, Celine was busy academically and socially. She was on the JV soccer and softball teams and was manager of the basketball cheerleaders. Celine also learned to ice skate and ski. One of her goals was to get her friends and host family to appreciate French culture, especially French cuisine.

She traveled to places like Disney World, Boston, New York City, and California. In late June Celine's mother and sister arrived and toured with her before returning to France.

Northfield is honored to have been host to such a fine person. Au revoir, Celine.

SAYING NO TO ALCOHOL

Alcohol and drugs. Two of the most feared words to parents and the most interesting to many teenagers who want to try it all. As they get older the more these items are used, especially alcohol. A war needs to be waged against alcohol in this school. A Students Against Driving Drunk organization (SADD) was started last year to combat students drinking and driving. And this year the senior class planned a Project Graduation party. Project Graduation is a program that allows the seniors to have their party at a place of their choosing, with music by their favorite group and/or DJ. Essentially, it is their party, to plan as they please, without drugs or alcohol. The only restriction is that students will not use drugs or alcohol at the party, or even before the party. This project has the support of the school and community, and sounds like a great idea.

The SADD chapter has been busy this year, also. One demonstration they tried illustrated the seriousness of the problem. Eight seniors

"died" each day representing the frequency of alcohol related fatalities occurring during an eight hour school day. The students wore black armbands to show they were a casualty. After five days, half the senior class was "dead". The results really showed the tragedy of driving drunk.

Also the SADD chapter had red ribbons available to students and staff to tie on to their cars to encourage them to think twice and perhaps stop them from driving drunk over the Christmas vacation.

The Vine Street Journal sent out a questionnaire on student drinking and driving habits. And the results were surprising. Out of grades 9-12, 74% drank alcohol. Of that 74%, 44% drank more than 4 drinks at a time. In addition, 11% admitted to drinking during school hours! According to an informal poll this drinking takes place off school grounds.

Although 72% of the boys do not drive under the influence (after 2 drinks), 74% have ridden with a driver under the influence! Even fewer girls drive under the influence (92% don't), yet 62% have ridden with a drunk driver!

Where does this alcohol come from? Almost half said they get it from friends, 27% from strangers, 12% from parents (whether they were given it or had just taken it), and, surprisingly 12% said that they get it themselves!

You may think all this is normal for teenagers but a May, 1987, study conducted by the Vermont Alcohol and Drug Abuse Agency showed that the state averaged 22% of the students in grades 10-12 who drink at least once a week, compared to NHS's 60%. Northfield's students are drinking much more than the rest of Vermont's students. Is this what Northfield really wants for its students?

ENRICHMENT TODAY

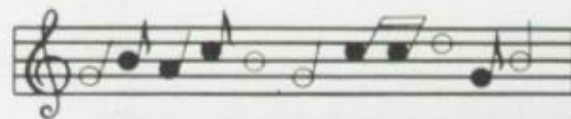

The Enrichment Program this year covered four areas of interest. The topics were journalism, computer science, physics, and hockey. Students who are interested and are recommended by their teachers are eligible to participate. They work with a member in the community who has expertise in the student's field of interest. Once again Mrs. Pasotti was the advisor for the program.

LET THE MUSIC PLAY

The Northfield music department started its year in August, when several band alumni gathered to play a two hour concert to raise money for the music department. On Labor Day, the marching band took its traditional spot in the annual parade.

In October, a specially selected group of students sang at the dinner for the accreditation and public school approval teams. Near Christmas time, the Select Chorus visited the Mayo Nursing Home. The choruses, the concert and rock bands planned a Valentine's Day concert.

The rock band planned to tour other schools in New England, and the concert band planned for an exchange concert. In the spring concert the concert band featured a guest saxophonist, Greg Banaszak, from the Hartt school of music. In addition to the concert, Mr. Banaszak held an improvisation masterclass with the rock band students.

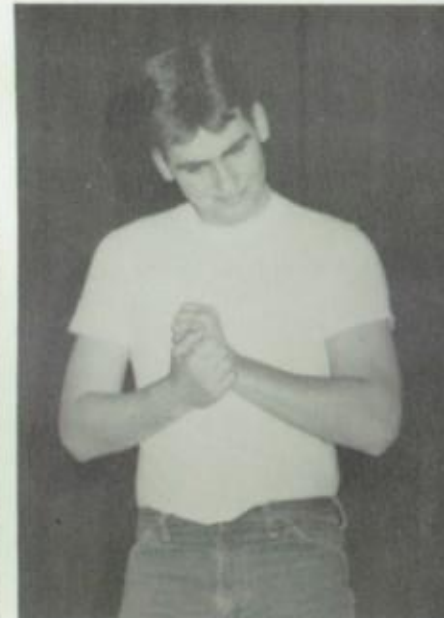

The concert band ended the year marching in the All-State and Memorial Day parades. To wrap up the school year the rock band played their traditional outdoor concert.

REMEMBER WHEN

. . . there were Senior Privileges. What ever happened?

. . . Mr. Donaldson gave us "laugh breaks"?

. . . Mr. Longfellow had east parties?

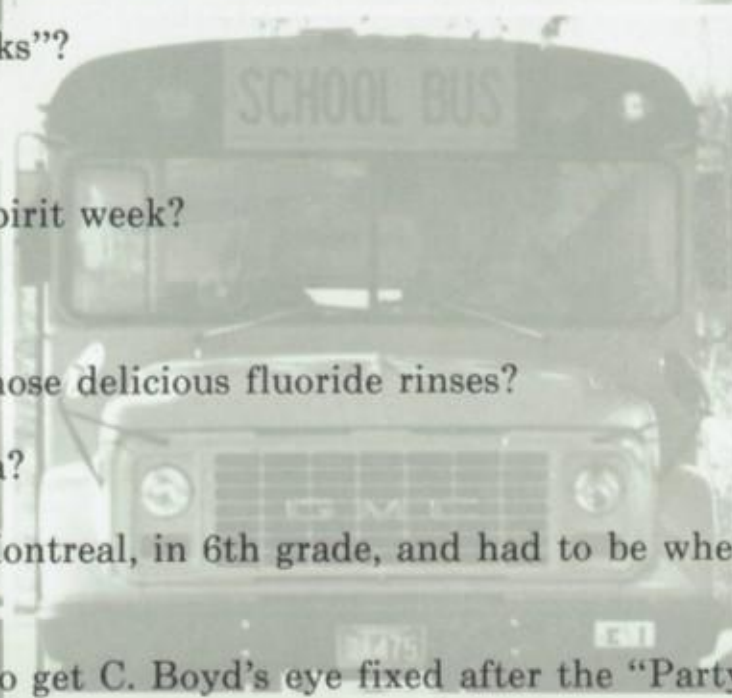

. . . we dominated and kicked at spirit week?

. . . the seniors looked so big?

. . . there was snack time, recess, and those delicious fluoride rinses?

. . . we "walked out" to save Mr. Dilena?

. . . Holly Ashford fell off Amtrak in Montreal, in 6th grade, and had to be wheeled around.

. . . we went to the mental institution to get C. Boyd's eye fixed after the "Party Popper" incident?

. . . the closet in room 8 was C.S.'s favorite place?

. . . we ate hot lunch at the Comiskey School, and enjoyed it?

. . . Terry McCullough used to drive Mr. Jarvis crazy with all his strange noises?

. . . a boy named Randy was so deathly afraid of snakes?

. . . the rumor was-"she has plastic ears"?

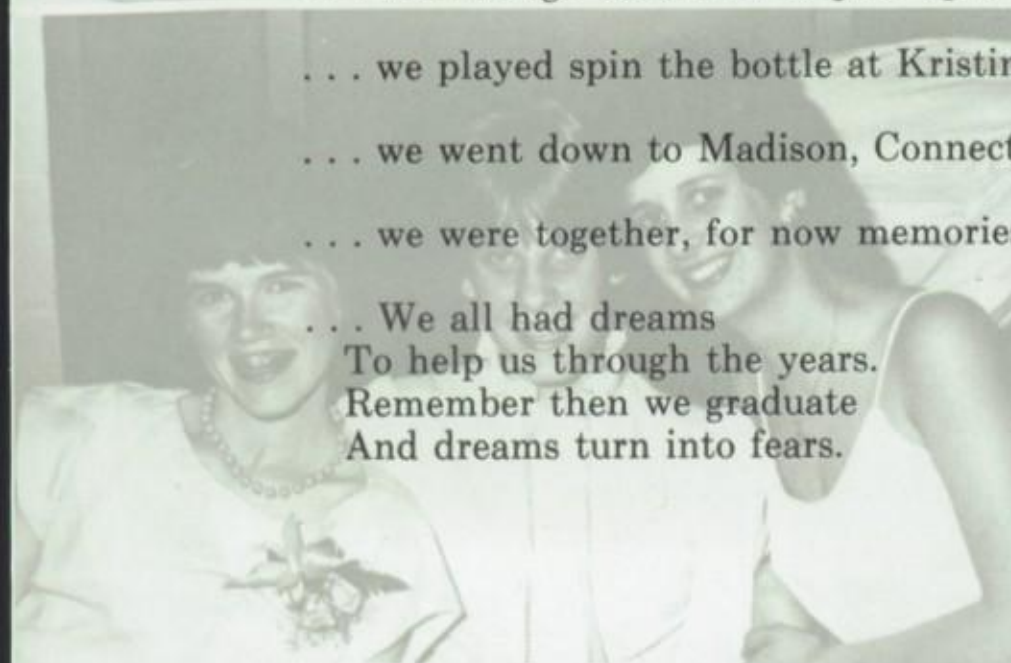

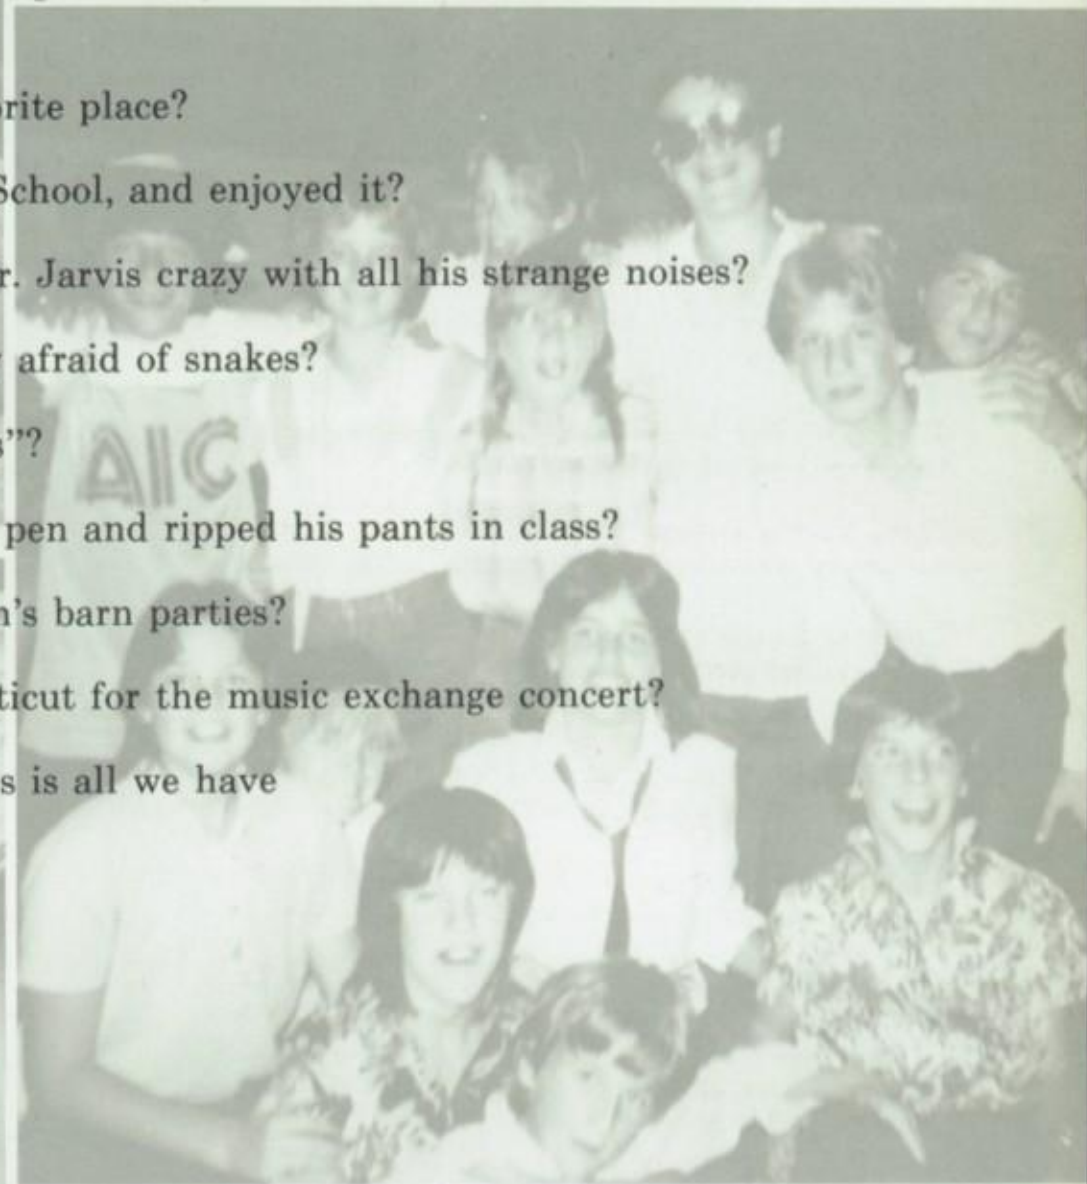

. . . Mr. Brough bent over to pick up a pen and ripped his pants in class?

. . . we played spin the bottle at Kristin's barn parties?

. . . we went down to Madison, Connecticut for the music exchange concert?

. . . we were together, for now memories is all we have

The yearbook staff this year was an exceptional one. Students worked hard to meet all the deadlines and were very creative in their approach to the layouts of the pages. There was never a lack of helping hands or of creative ideas for titles and captions. The high school students and staff would like to thank the yearbook staff for all their hard work, with special thanks going out to the two advisors without whom the yearbook would never be possible. Thank you so much, Mrs. Denny and Mr. Cecil.

Whoa! I think I'll just change this. No one will notice.

RAMBLER SUPPLEMENT '88

On The Links!

Northfield's golf season started with many "rookies" who made the season work. At first NHS looked like a bunch of helpless hackers. The team shot a 219 in the first match. From there the team continued to improve. The team, led by, Craig Barnard, Bill Mayo, and Andy Van Domelen ended up with a 19-3 record. After the Newport golf tournament, the team began to look at the finals more closely. Here Northfield placed second, missing first by just two strokes. In this tournament Tom Elwell and Andy VanDomelen kept the team alive while the other three all had "a bad day." A week later the team lost three seniors out of the starting five players. New recruits were chosen and began practicing again. They went on to the states, with a renewed determination. At the Middlebury course six division two schools met. NHS placed fourth, led by Andy VanDomelen (90), Craig Barnard (91), Brian Burnett (93), and Billy Mayo, who under the most pressure at the number one spot, shot a 107. Dave Hall ended the day with a 127. Other members on the team were Steve Peake, Carle Underhill, Dave Pope, and Matt Gadbois.

NEXT YEAR!

As the Marauders softball season came to a close, it was generally understood by everyone concerned that it had not been a winning season. Winning two games boosted the team's spirits, but it was difficult to keep smiling when the losing total seemed to be steadily climbing, climbing until it reached a total of twelve. Many of the games were close, but each of those games held an inning that put the team at the bottom of the scoreboard. Although the girls were discouraged at the end of each game, they managed to get themselves psyched for the next game.

The team which consisted of seven seniors, four juniors, and one sophomore soon learned how to communicate with each other and work as a team. Although it wasn't a winning season, it was a memory that is shared with the entire team.

STATE CHAMPS!

The 1988 season started out looking good. Coach Frank "GUIDO" Pecora had a strong nucleus from last year's near championship team. Three seniors, seven juniors, and four sophomores filled out the squad. This team had good hitting, good to occasionally superb pitching, and solid fielding, but the team's best asset was its bench.

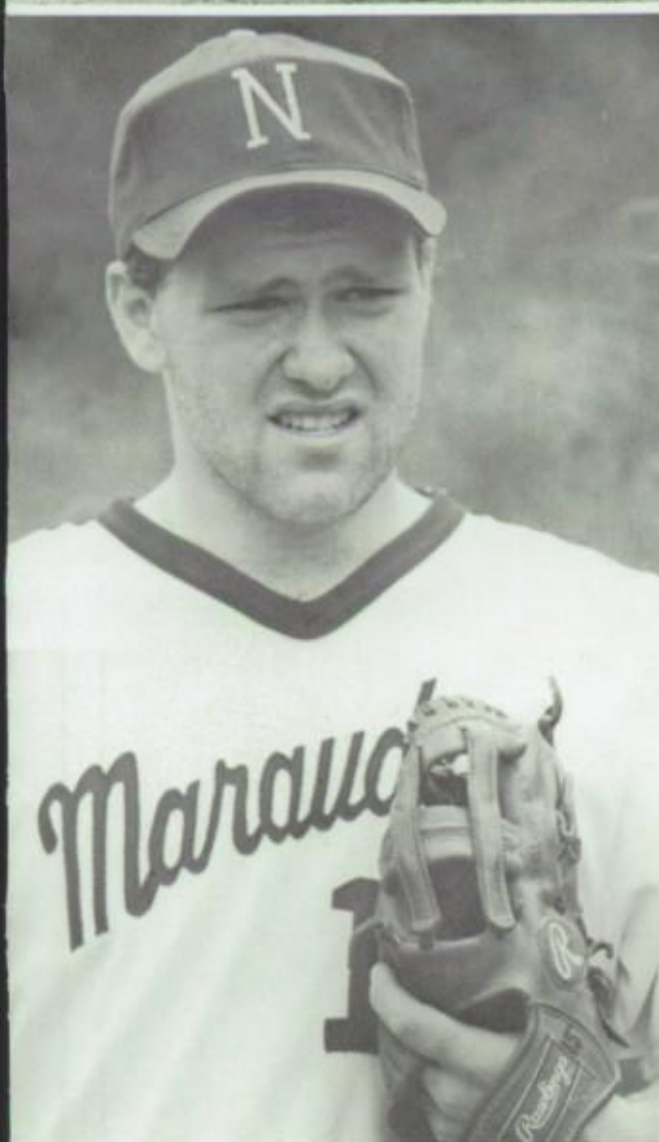

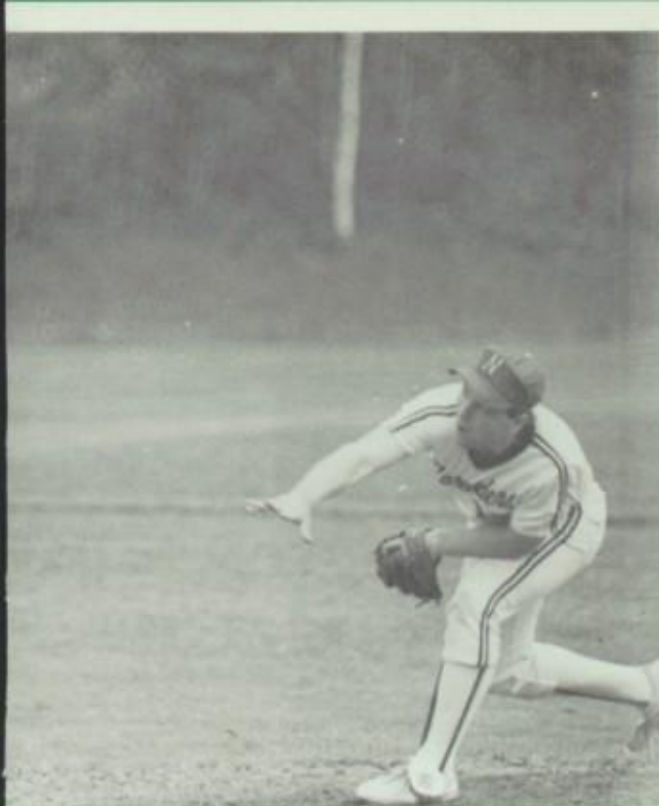

The Marauders with an 11-2 record were seeded first in Div. III, giving them a home field advantage for the quarter and semi-finals. NHS did not rally until late in both games. In the quarter finals the Marauders scored five runs in the bottom of the seventh to defeat Williamstown. Then came the real test. The BFA Bullets of Fairfax, the 1987 state champs, gave NHS a scare, but three runs in the seventh gave them the 6-5 edge. The Marauders had earned The Times-Argus' nickname, "The Cardiac Kids."

In the finals NHS faced a young Enosburg team. Northfield had seven hits to win 6-2, while Enosburg had only two as well as four errors. Seniors, Sam "Slammin" Marotta, Chris "Johnny" Toner, and Scott "Skunky" French, were thrilled with a championship four days before graduation. The future looks bright, but all that can be said now is "Amen."

The travelers get a taste of Mexican life as they leave the bus and enter the busy city.

Dreams Come True In Mexico!

At midnight on April fourteenth, the Spanish III class could hardly believe it was finally happening. The dream that Miss Rubio helped them to realize was finally coming true. Even on the plane thoughts that this could not really be happening continued to run through their heads. The week spent in Mexico was spectacular! They had such an amazing time! It was fun and also incredibly educational. They learned a lot about Mexican culture, language and geography. They had the pleasure of seeing the Ballet Folklorico, the national dance troupe of Mexico.

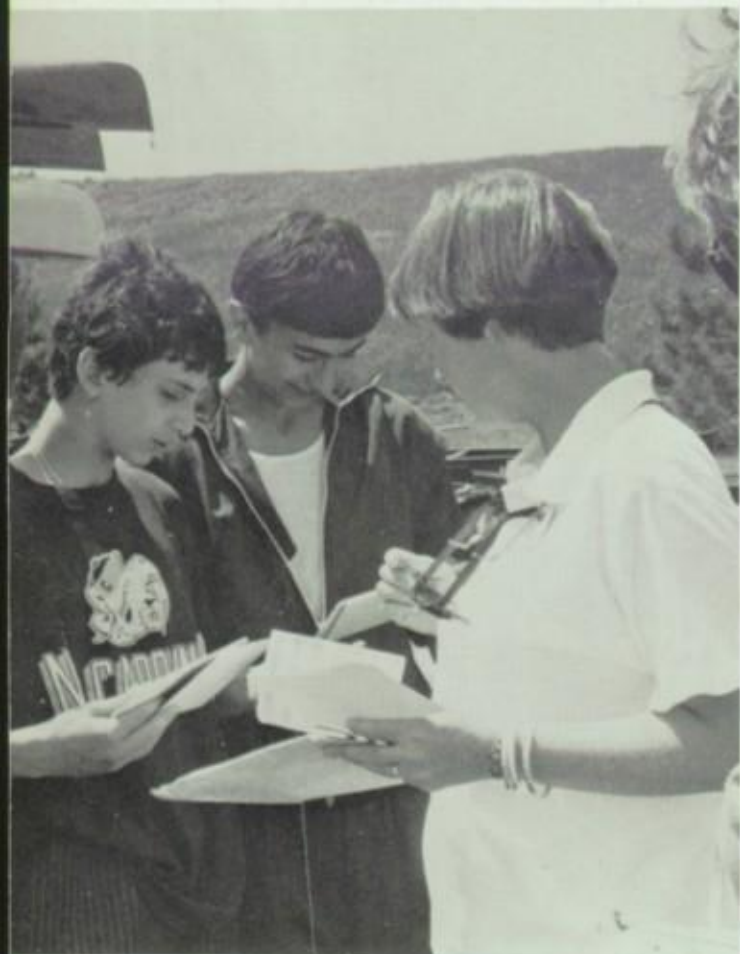

Other sights included a bullfight, cliff divers in Acapulco, the Museum of Anthropology, and the great pyramids in Teotihuacan. The highlight of the trip was the shopping, where the travelers got to try their hands at bargaining. One word of advice from the Spanish III class, "Never drive in Mexico City!" Travelers included Corinne Boyd, Amy Hockenbury, Kerry Rooney, Sandra Miller, Kelly Cashman, Tara Cashman, Frazer McLean, Sherry Sears, Kevin Pinkham, Grant McLean, Karen McLean, Mrs. Rubio, Mr. Carlos Pinkham, and Miss Maria Rubio.

The Ballet Folklorico puts on a great show for our dreamers.

Young Soviet Dancers Impress NHS

Northfield was honored with a visit of the Merani Dance Troupe from Tbilisi, a city in the Caucasus Mountains in Soviet Georgia. The Hockenburys of Northfield were happy to house four teenage boys. The troupe was brought here through Project Harmony, an all volunteer organization, recognized as a pioneer in Soviet/American youth exchange. In 1987, Project Harmony brought students from Leningrad. Project Harmony is the first group to arrange home-stays for Soviet teenagers staying in the U.S. and to make arrangements for our students to have meals in Soviet homes. In November, Mrs. Mary Corrigan and Mrs. Marta Cambra will take a group of Northfield students to the Soviet Union.

SPRING MUSIC FEST

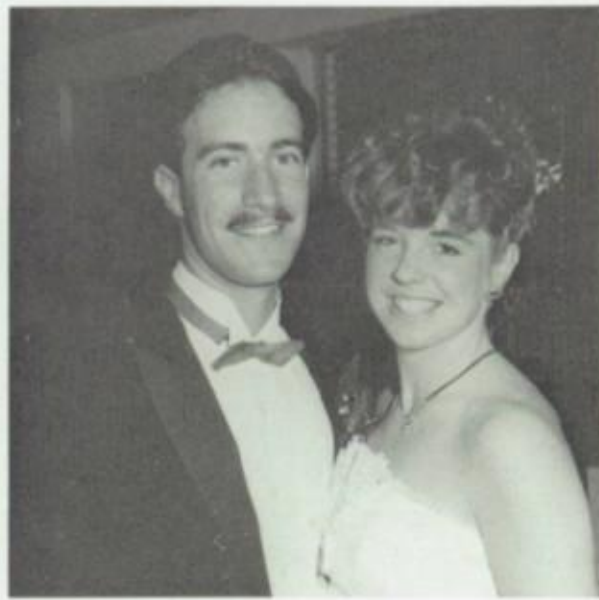

One Heavenly Night!

"A Stairway to Heaven" was the perfect theme for this year's prom. The balloons of lavender and silver, the "sparkles" on the tables, and the "mist" that was used gave the whole night an unearthly effect. Highlights of the evening included riding the glass elevator and the crowning of the king and queen.

(Below) Gretchen Walthers, winner of the UVM writing contest, receives recognition and an award.

Vocational Awards Received!

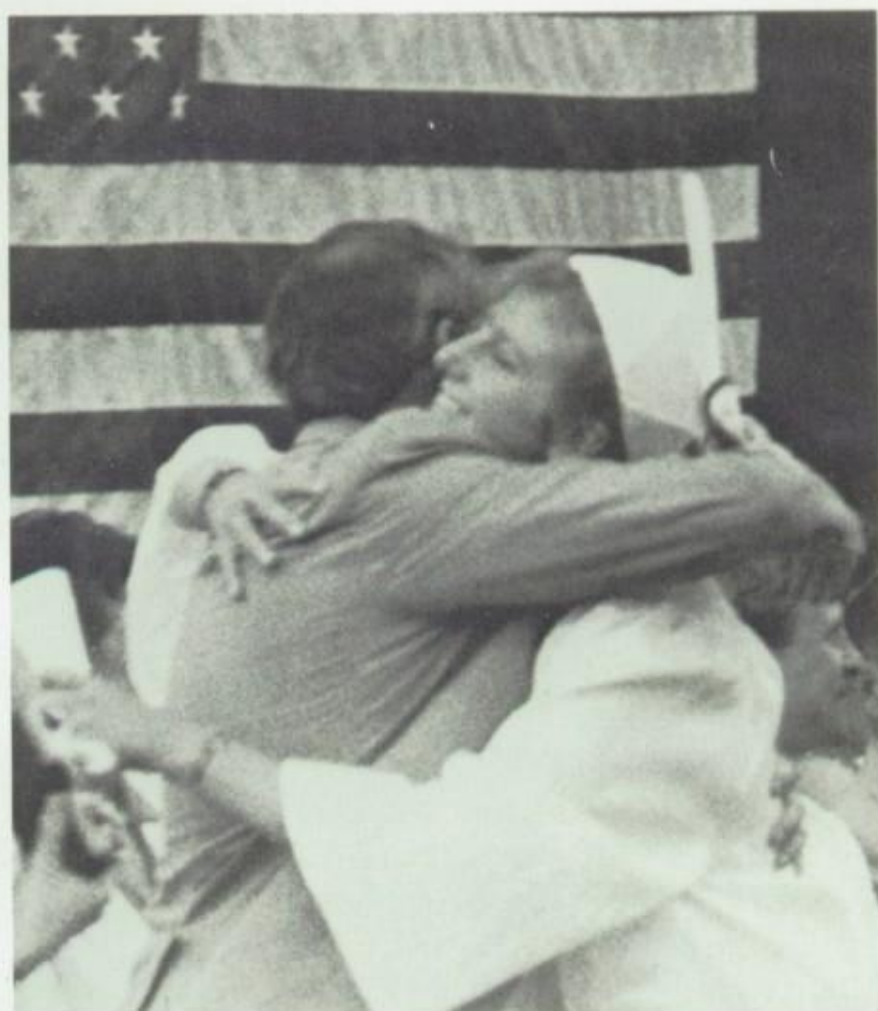

In January the Randolph students graduated from the vocational center. Our Northfield students came away with many high honors and scholarships. Chris Jennett and Richard Messier were the Most Improved Students. Awards were given to Heather Codling, Shawn Burnett, and Leo Pollander for Exceptional Performance in Culinary Arts and Leon Matheson for Exceptional Academic Trade Skills. Amy Wright was named Outstanding Officer in the FBLA. Scholarships were given to Richard Messier, Melanie LeClair, Lori Davis, Tammy Bell, Wendy Dickinson, Michelle Fournier, Shawn Burnett, Ivan Lewis, Thomas McDermott, Jason Buck, Amy Wright, Anne Bean, and Kallyn Coutts.

CLASS OF 1988: TOGETHER FOREVER!

The First Of Many!

NHS's first Project Graduation began with a parking lot full of confused kids and Mr. Jarvis yelling people's names and ended with two buses packed with tired but happy teenagers. The crowded bus with three jammed in a seat and with knapsacks crammed in between was not quite what was expected. The night was off to a slow start when one bus took a detour and arrived at the Olympiad rather late. But, as the saying goes, "It is always darkest before the dawn." The band 8084 lifted low spirits quickly and raised our temperatures, and if temperatures got too "high" there was always the outdoor pool to cool us off. Many thanks to the organizers for their dedication and hard work.

Angela,

Your a great friend...
